

Walkers are Welcome Towns and Villages

Discover more at www.walkersarewelcome.org.uk

info@walkersarewelcome.org.uk

Find us on:

Little Dawley Pools, Wellington

Towns and Village where Walkers are Welcome

This unique community-led scheme – run by the communities themselves – has rapidly grown since it was launched in the Pennine town of Hebden Bridge in 2007. There are now Walkers are Welcome towns and villages in many parts of Britain, ready to make your visit an enjoyable one.

You will know you are in a Walkers are Welcome community when you see that familiar black and gold logo in shops, cafés, B&Bs and on walk leaflets.

Walkers are Welcome towns and villages are in some of Britain's beautiful (but often less explored) areas, on the north Wales coast, in the Scottish southern uplands, in the Shropshire Hills, in the Pennines and in the Yorkshire Wolds.

The number of Walkers are Welcome communities is growing, so for a full list, go to the website www.walkersarewelcome.org.uk